Freedom Service Dogs of America has given me what years of therapy could not: It has given me a buddy in the foxhole, someone who has my back no matter what. Kanga brings me back when I am lost in flashbacks and panic attacks; he comforts me when I feel like I can't go on anymore; and he is there, always looking at me, never saying a word, not one judgment against me.

Jonathan "Jose" Castillo,
Retired Staff Sergeant with Kanga, FSD graduate

Proceeds Benefit Freedom Service Dogs

Operation Freedom, a program of Freedom Service Dogs, was developed to help veterans and military personnel with a disability regain their independence and return to their communities.

Freedom Service Dogs is unique in that they do not breed dogs. Instead, they are one of the few organizations in the U.S. to rescue abandoned dogs from shelters around the nation and custom train them to fit individual needs.

A Freedom Service Dog is a highly trained, gentle and constant helper.

With unconditional love, they provide support as a veteran re-learns to walk. They can help get them out of bed and open doors. They keep strangers at a distance. They find keys and cell phones for vets with memory problems. Perhaps most importantly, they are always there in difficult moments and help break down the barriers of isolation and anxiety with their trusted companionship.
